This page explains how and why Practicle uses cookies.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored on your device when you visit our website. They are used to improve functionality and analyze traffic.

2. Which cookies do we use?

We only use one type of non-essential cookie:

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics to collect anonymous statistics about how visitors use our website. This helps us improve the experience. The data is anonymized and cannot be traced back to you.

3. Consent

We obtain your consent before enabling the Google Analytics cookie. You can change or withdraw your consent at any time.

4. How to reject cookies

You can change cookie settings in your browser and delete existing cookies. See your browser's help function for instructions.

5. Contact

If you have questions about our use of cookies, you can contact us at:
